Hay cut

The contractor cut the hay at the end of August, and completed the baling and removal on 10 September. He complained of pieces of wood in the fields which could seriously damage his machinery. The wood did not grow there, so it was probably carried there by dogs or thrown by dog walkers, which they are welcome to do, but here is a heartfelt plea:

Dog walkers!
Please do not leave thrown sticks in the meadow and please remove any that you find there
